The most striking characteristic of the proceedings of this Board is the invariable good humor which prevails. It is positively wonderful that a hundred men can neet and do business to the amount o hundreds of thousands of dollars per day under circumstances the most perplexing, without raising a ripple of discord. Ill-temper would be as much out of place here as open dishonesty. Geniality is cultivated, and its excess boils over in the anties—participated in by old and young—that have been alluded to above. rth your lead pencil, and are ready for One noment a middle-aged broker is ex-ercising his large on cat-calls, who ps, and ecreams, and the next strikes a fity-thousard-dilar bargain, with a face in which beam the curried Ulysses and the
